USC Parent Leadership Circle

Entrusting your child's college education to us is a privilege and responsibility we take seriously at the University of Southern California. We embrace parents as honored members of the Trojan Family and as valued partners, who are helping us to prepare the leaders, innovators and creators of tomorrow.

USC Parent Leadership Circle (PLC) offers a community of caring Trojan parents dedicated to providing an exemplary experience for all of our students. As PLC Co-Chairs Joo and David Cantor express it: "When we joined the Parent Leadership Circle, we didn't have any connection to USC other than through our daughter. PLC has allowed us to offer support that is meaningful to our family, while connecting us to a more intimate USC community. Our engagement with the greater membership and our fellow members of the Executive Committee has enriched our lives, and we have enjoyed the exciting programming and events for Trojan parents. PLC has been a warm welcome to our family, and we hope you feel the same."

"The heart of our mission is to create a caring, academically rigorous, and life-changing experience for our students. Together with you, our Trojan parents, we are building a stronger university for the future, opening doors wider to diversity and inclusion, preparing our students to be game changers in the fast-paced world of tomorrow, leading in innovation, discovery and creativity, and making ever-greater contributions in service to others."
